

My love,

Everyone knows that the most precious gifts are the ones sent straight from the heart. Even though Valentine's Day has come and gone, I can still send you a unique and eloquent message of love ! You know that to me there are no wrong moments to tell someone you love them.

It is very important for me to express to you how much you really mean to me. Since we are physically separated by miles of emptiness, this expression must come in the form of letters such as this one.

To be honest, I have never felt as happy, as content or as excited about being with someone as I am with you. I know it is difficult to be separated. Life seems to be full of trials of this type which test us every day but I truly believe that life only sends us what we can handle. After all, it is said that love is boundless and overcomes all forms of adversity. In truth, if it is genuine, it will only grow stronger with time.

I deeply cherish any thought of you, prize any memory of you, and long for the day when our paths cross again.

Until that moment arrives, I send to you all my affection, and my warm embrace.

Forever yours,
